

Stable silencing of HMGA1 promoted chemosensitivity to gemcitabine in vivo. Representative photograph of one mouse from each group was shown, with tumour located at their flanks.